Digital Executive Protection: A Proactive Approach to PII Exposure of U.S. C-suite executives have been targeted by cyberattacks in the past 18 months of U.S. companies have experienced at least one identity fraud incident affecting a senior executive over the last 18 months.

72%

> 54%

Today, everyone is just one online search query away from a potential existential threat. And executives face targeted attacks that extend beyond physical harm. Cyberstalking, online harassment, and the spread of misinformation all pose significant risks to their safety. While the motives for targeted attacks vary, living in a digital economy, the need for proactive executive protection has never been more urgent. That's where Digital Executive Protection by 360 Privacy comes in.

// WHO IS 360 PRIVACY

Our team of experts comes from the United States Special Ops, the Intelligence, and the cybersecurity communities. 360 Privacy protects the digital identity and security of high-profile executives, athletes, and high-net-worth families and their assets. By removing personally identifiable information (PII) from data broker websites on the open web, and conducting real-time monitoring of the dark web, 360 Privacy reduces the digital footprint and the attack surface. With a proven track record of protection, 360 Privacy proudly serves hundreds of organizations, including over 30 of the Fortune 100. Powered by proven human-expertise, 360 Privacy cyber-intelligence professionals are seasoned experts providing rapid incident response and proactive remediation services.

// WHAT WE DO

360 Privacy handles all the complexities of PII removal and monitoring, so our clients don't have to.

1

Enhanced Risk Mitigation: Digital Executive Protection by 360 Privacy proactively identifies and mitigates online threats before they escalate into real-world harm. This includes monitoring hundreds of data broker sites, social media, dark web forums, and other digital channels for any signs of potential threats. Once a client is enrolled, 360 Privacy handles all deletion activities without any further action required delivering always-on protection.

2

Protection of Sensitive Information: Executives today handle vast amounts of sensitive data, making them prime targets for cyberattacks. The 360 Privacy Platform protects sensitive information by monitoring for leaks and exposed passwords, and notifies customers quickly. The solution also covers the cross-over risks associated with work and personal device usage. Unlike other products, with 360 Privacy, all remediation and mitigation activities are conducted by full-time, in-house analysts, and never outsourced; thus ensuring maximum privacy and security.

3

Continuous Monitoring and Response: Digital Executive Protection services by 360 Privacy provide round-the-clock monitoring and response, ensuring that potential threats are identified and addressed immediately, regardless of time and location. And protection begins within 24 hours of enrollment.

4

Return on Investment: Compared to traditional PII removal solutions, 360 Privacy provides more in-depth analysis and mitigation with daily scans and the removal of "right data." Unlike other providers, 360 Privacy relies on a team of experts from Special Operation Forces, the Intelligence Community, and technology specialists, uniquely positioned to understand and address the complex privacy challenges faced by high-profile individuals.

"We used a PII service before engaging 360 Privacy, and still they were able to identify and remove more than 150 existing data broker profiles."

-Sr. Director, Global Security at Electronic Gaming and Multimedia

// CONCLUSION

The 360 Privacy Platform provides proactive protection for executives and high net worth individuals who require world-class, reliable safeguarding of their assets and identities. Digital protection and physical security are not enough. Automated PII removal is not enough. You need 360 protection. You need 360 Privacy.
